

Realty of Chicago

Engaged Evonence for workspace tools adoption for better real-time collaboration, data sharing, and security and mobility access needs.

The challenge

Limited collaboration and security with a third-party webmail system. Information is shared and stored across different locations, including personal devices preventing real estate agents/employees from sharing the data efficiently. No management capabilities for the end-user lifecycle management and visibility into users' actions.

The solution

With Drive, team members at the head office collaborate more effectively using Docs and Sheets. Google Meet enables its agents to work flexibly in the office or from home. Google Workspace enables faster access to data for realtors, enabling quicker decisions for customers. Work that used to take 15 to 20 days can now be done in real time.

The results

Google workspace provided single enterprise solutions for end-user administration, secured data sharing and access, real-time collaboration, and productivity. The users have access to tools for web meetings, chats, calendars, access to corporate data within the same interface. Overall improvement in employee productivity, communication channels, and end-user experience.

“ Migrating to google workspace was a seamless process. Going from the go daddy workspace to google is a huge upgrade to our organization. The google workspace is more user-friendly and interactive with all of our agents that use it on a daily basis. More people are inclined to use this email workspace than the go daddy one due to these and many more features. ”
